ABSTRACT

The objective of this research is to describe the doctrine of salvation among the congregation of GKLB Nafiri Mulyasari, to identify the pattern of teaching regarding the doctrine of salvation in the church, and to explore the congregation's understanding of the doctrine itself. This study uses a qualitative method with a descriptive approach and was conducted at the GKLB Nafiri Mulyasari congregation.

Data were collected through documentation, observation, and in-depth interviews. Based on the analysis and interpretation of the data, the study found the following: (1) there is a variety of understandings regarding salvation among the elders, deacons, and congregation members; (2) there is a lack of teaching related to salvation directed at the congregation; (3) there is no official doctrinal document available within GKLB concerning the teaching of salvation.

Based on these findings, it is recommended that GKLB provide an official doctrinal document regarding the teaching of salvation and offer more comprehensive teaching to the congregation not only through sermons so that church members may have a proper and accurate understanding of the meaning of salvation.
